[IMPRESSION, OTHER NOTES]

- The image color is "red".
- A bomb that wants to explode alone and looks for its opponent.

[POSITION, OBJECTIVES]

The Third King, the Red King. The big boss of the yakuza group "Kagirohigumi".

Former Naval Flight Sergeant First Class, member of the Kamikaze Corps. On the day of the defeat, he flew out to launch a special attack against the US fleet, but his plane was shot down and he was lodged on a US warship. After returning to Japan, he awoke as the "Red King" while working to get rid of Japanese military weapons in Chofu. He is feared as a demon by the American forces that fought on the spot.

Beginning in 1948, he founded Kagirohigumi, which dominates many markets in burnt-out Tokyo and secretly reigns as its top boss.

Ever since he lost the war, this person lives every day to find someone who can throw away his "whatever there is". Always oscillating between that desire for destruction and the comfort of being with his comrades, he is often irritated by his own imperfections. The power itself is used conveniently and there is nothing to think about in particular.

[PERSONALITY, CONDUCT]

The first person is "ore".

Todokoro Suwako is "Suwa". Okuma Tamataro is "Okuma". Rough mouth

Cheerful, free-spirited, reckless. He leaves behind a youthful innocence. He is a foul talker, but often gets to the point.

Broad-minded and not obsessed with the small things. He has great power to attract people.

Although he is kind-hearted, he doesn't like to be seen that way, so he acts violent on purpose.

Although he looks tough, he gets along well with people and has good judgment. He is honest and respectful to those he likes.

He has unusually strong willpower, and when he decides he must do it, he twists even his emotions and rushes forward.

He likes fights like no other, and he fights like he's breathing, but he doesn't drag it down.

Unless the other party appeals to the power of cowardly means or supernatural powers, he will not make use of his power either.

Although he has a strong sense of camaraderie, he is essentially unable to follow anyone. The so-called general mountain temperament.

However, he will not be coercive towards those below him and will treat them as peers of the same rank.

If someone hurts his comrades, he will immediately counterattack regardless of whether he is right or wrong.

[ABILITIES, TACTICS]

He freely manipulates the red flames and has the power to destroy and disturb everything. He specializes in hand-to-hand combat where he moves striking with jets of flame. He boasts of the destructive power of his flame encrusted fists. Basically, he is a fighting method, fighting only with intuition and sense instead of systematic techniques.

He often jumps into the air to understand the situation, but he can't stay in the air or float by himself.

[POWER]

A (Class "King".)

[LIKES]

Refreshing. A clean one.

Friends, especially Suwako and Okuma. Sushi Okara made by Suwako.

[DISLIKE]

To be bored. Something annoying.

Games of chance (to always bet everything and win the money at once).

[HOBBIES]

Fights and fights. Often it becomes an event due to other people's fights.

[CLAN]

"Kagirohigumi".

A yakuza group that dominates the postwar market. His predecessor was Kanto Okumagumi, founded by Tamataro Okuma's father, Hayataro. Apparently, it calls itself the "Kagirohi Trade Association" and is headquartered in the "Yakumo" gambling hall located at the back of "Kagirohi Yokocho" in Shizume City. It moves mainly for market division and self-defense. General management is left to Suwako Todokoro, and control of the group is left to Tamataro Okuma.

All of them are vassals who received the "Fire Cup" from the "Red King", and have powers related to fire. Having experienced many conflicts, he is used to fighting and is very good at team fights.
