

"SIX IDOLS – SILVER HIDDEN ART" (By Suzu Suzuki)

TRANSLATION: NARU-KUN / K-PROJECT WORLD

"Occult art contest?"

Hearing the work Shiro brought in, Kuro and Neko spoke to each other.

"Yes! Look, this is a proposal!"

Annual New Year's Occult Art Contest. It is a very famous project that is broadcast on national television without interruptions. Kuro involuntarily distorted his face when he read the proposal that listed the names of famous artists.

"To get such a decent job... I'll check it out, Shiro! Sometimes you can do something as a producer!"

"It's a way of saying you accept, but I don't care."

"What is it?"

Suddenly, Neko asked that question. There are many things that she does not know because she lives naturally.

"Hmm, it's true, for example... it's like this..."

With that said, Shiro spread his arms and put them in front of them. Showing his palm, he showed the back of his hand and his palm again.

When he showed it and shook it quickly, several balls appeared between his fingers.

"Wow! Wow! Shiro, what did you do now?"

"Ah, that's Naisho. Well, I wish everyone could be surprised like that. Are there two of them?"

"Oh, then, there is a special technique that I learned from Ichigen-sama."

Kuro took the sword that was leaning against the dresser. When he held it and took a pose, his entire body was filled with an extraordinary spirit.

"Hey!"

When he thought he shot a flash, the blade was already in the sheath. At the same time, the apples on the table split in two.

"The sharpness of "Kotowari" given by Ichigen-sama hasn't diminished yet."

"Oh! As expected, Kuro is great!"

He stirred his competitive conscience upon seeing Shiro clapping his hands.

Neko also raised her hand, saying "Yes, yes!", and started her own show.

"If that's the case, Wagahai can do it! Look!"

When Neko stood up, she spread her arms.

"Here I go! Hey!"

When he thought that she was shrinking, the sweater and skirt she was wearing fell off and Neko turned into a white figure.

"It's bad, stupid! Get dressed fast, sassy!"

"Because it's a national network, you definitely can't do it in production, right?"

"Why? I did my best!"

Neko screamed in disgust, dressed by the two of them.
