

MINI EPISODES: KARAOKE TOGETHER

TRANSLATION: NARU-KUN / K-PROJECT WORLD

When Kukuri Yukizome invited him to karaoke and got his approval, Sota Mishina made a large gut settle on his mind. In the morning news show, Aries' fortune, especially love luck, was said to be the best.

"It is a boost for your favorite son."

You must believe in the morning information program. They said his lucky color was blue, so a blue shirt was worth wearing. Since he confessed and broke his heart to pieces, his friends who have not spoken to him have told him that he is a suicide stalker, Don Quixote on Gakuen Island, and a man who is betting on the possibility of less than 0.1%.

Going to karaoke alone together is like a date statement.

He arrives at the meeting place 30 minutes ago,

After a purely bittersweet date in high school, after a serious relationship after dating, he finally dreamed of a happy honeymoon, and was suddenly shattered.

"Wagahai's first karaoke!"

"I also."

"In the past, I came with my brothers."

Kukuri's best friend, Neko. The teacher at the Gakuen Academy, Shiro. He is nicknamed the German teacher. Also, Kuro, who works making school meals.

A trio who often performed with Kukuri, appeared with Kukuri. In front of Mishina,
"Please wait, Mishina!"

Kukuri appears wearing sneakers, a white knit sweater and a gray miniskirt.

He was disappointed.

But, he thought it looked cute on her.

"Eh? What's wrong, Mishina?"

She tilted his neck gently, wondering what was going on.

Was it a brave statement of rejection?

He immediately thought not. He was sure that Kukuri had added the word "everyone" to Mishina's invitation, "Why don't we all go to karaoke?" This is Kukuri.

It was like the iron wall of Kinjou Castle that cannot be destroyed.

He also like that!

Mishina changed his mind, smiled and held up his thumb.

"Let's have fun today, Yukisome-san!"

He was glad that Kukuri smiled at him.

Actually, Mishina had a chance of winning. No matter how many people there are, in the karaoke arena, it is possible to impact Kukuri. Truthfully, he practiced every night with the Tonmatsu app, and was able to sing moderately popular songs these days.

When everyone seems shy and wants to avoid it, the scoring feature kicks in casually, and a song linked to a commercial pops up, which might be thought to be a song that often plays in convenience stores lately.

As a result, 88 points.

He didn't make it to ninety points, but he was pretty sure. Both the lyrics and the melody are good to the touch and popularity with girls is high. (Investigation of the morning information show. Song number one I want my boyfriend to sing.) As it is a song, Kukuri would have been happy, when he looks at the sides for a while after singing, Kukuri was in the correct order, so she just clapped in the middle of choosing a song on the screen.

Rather, the additional three people cheered.

"Huh, well. Since Mishina-kun sat down, I follow."

Shiro grabs the microphone. Mishina giggled a little. To be honest, he doesn't know if Shiro is good at singing.

But there was one thing he was convinced of. He was sure that...

"Shiro doesn't know any songs that the girls would like to hear."

He can bet it. Shiro is the type of person who could select a strange song.

If you sing a German folk song to it, how can you cheer them up?

Shiro sang when Mishina was concerned about such things,

"Wow! How great!"

It was a ballad by a male singer that Kukuri was so impressed with that she couldn't stop selecting songs. The release itself was about two years ago, but it's still a very popular song for women.

After singing, the score is 92 points. Everyone was admired and applauded. Asked why Kukuri chose this song over the dazed Mishina's,

"I used to be in my airship when the people singing this were worried a long time ago. I gave a little advice. I am the motif of the airship in this song."

He was so shy that he didn't understand why he said something like that. Anyway, he sang a song that was better than Mishina's and is accepted by young people. Neko continues,

"Well here I go!"

Wondering if she could put on a crazy song, she sang a girl band theme that was quite melodious and rocky. You can easily see it in some bars. Is very good.

Kukuri, who has finished entering the song, plays the tambourine with a smile.

And Neko bowed cute when she was completely done. Everything seems to have been learned while walking here and there alone. This is also the reason why he doesn't know it well, but the score is 94 points higher than Shiro.

Finally, Kuro,

"Well this may be dirty."

He cleared his throat and stood up. Mishina was praying in his heart.

"I will ask. Select a song that suits me as much as it suits you."

At best, it's Showa Kayo, or if it's not good at it, it's a military song.

Despite expecting such a thing, Kuro sang an idol song from a certain boy group. The song itself is from a long time ago, but it is still a classic element that is often heard. Also, he is even better than the previous two. When he finished singing, he scored 95 points.

It was a high score that is difficult to get out of in amateur karaoke.

"Amazing."

When everyone admires,

"Well, what it looks like on stage, because my brothers were there."

Kuro said a few words that don't make sense either. Mishina was already shocked.

Everyone was good at singing, and song selection was easy. Kukuri's reaction was also clearly better than Mishina's. And finally Kukuri. The introduction that came from karaoke ...

"What?"

Shiro has round eyes. Yes, Kukuri sang a national enka. Also, her karaoke is not a little good, but good. She's not really a pro, but there aren't that many amateur girls who can sing like that.

As a result, 96 points.

"Fu."

As Shiro, Kuro and Neko clapped, Kukuri breathed as she wiped the sweat under her chin with the back of her hand.

"Ah, that was really good."

When Mishina speaks in a trembling voice,

"Thank you. My grandmother loves enka and taught me a lot. "

Kukuri smiled,

"Sing the song with your soul."

He was arrowed like Zukkyun, and his shirt melted like sweat.

After that, the five of them switched to night karaoke, it was exciting, but of course, the relationship between Kukuri and Mishina did not develop at all.
