

MINI EPISODES: GOODBYE PALE PAST

TRANSLATION: NARU-KUN / K-PROJECT WORLD

Scepter 4 can detain a suspect for a certain period of time if there is a valid reason to judge that the suspect is a Strain. Of course, after going to court or on trial for the proper procedure, it was quite powerful.

In fact, there is a detention center in the basement of the barracks, so it is not as busy every day, but the Strains who committed crimes were regularly detained (because there is a high risk of escape from ordinary police stations).

A person who is now considered the main criminal in a bank robbery criminal group had been detained as a result of a month-long investigation by a team led by Seri Awashima. It is almost certain that the person exerts a force like Strain, after measuring it by means of a device to measure the Weissmann deviation installed in the base.

However, it is unclear what kind of talent the person had and what role he played in the criminal group. Akiyama and Benzai have alternated for the past few days, but the opponent has not grabbed his tail at all.

The suspect also became a nephew of a renowned politician, and that person's pressure on Scepter 4 increased day by day.

For some reason, Awashima, who had hesitated to deal with this suspect for a certain reason, decided that she would question him on her own.

"Lieutenant, is it really okay?"

Akiyama seems to be worried,

"Yes, okay. Leave it to me."

Seri Awashima entered the interview space, commonly known as the "interrogation room," with her head held high. A slim man who was fit to sit in a pipe chair. He raised his face when Awashima entered and smiled thin lips. The beautiful double eyes behind the glasses were looking at her.

(Without changes.)

Awashima thought.

(Mysterious eyes that look into the depths of a person's heart.)

The habit of barely blinking remained the same.

"Hello. I am Awashima who is in charge of your questions. Nice to meet you."

Awashima sat in a pipe chair with a steel table in the middle, and the man replied in a calm voice.

"Hello, Awashima-san. I am Kanemura."

He keeps his eyes on Awashima and bows his head.

He had an eerily calm smile. He does not regretfully appeal to his innocence, nor does he show resentment at having been wrongfully detained. Just look at Awashima without blinking an eye.

(He doesn't remember, after all.)

Awashima thought as he watched the other person.

That may be reasonably possible. She found this man only a few times when she was attending high school. That was when she was in her first year and this guy was in his third year. At the time, this Kanamura was a celebrity fighting for first or second place in the school.

The sport wasn't that much, but he was ranked #1 in the academy school, and was a single-digit regular in national rehearsals.

He also served as student council president because of the calm and leadership left by the high school. Furthermore, he was from a famous family that produced many politicians and bureaucrats. The appearance was also a naive beauty with the delicate fit of the glasses. To be modest with the girls, there was something amazing.

The reason Awashima gained the opportunity to investigate this man, was not simply for his senior year at the same high school.

When she was in high school, she felt a little admiration for Kanemura, although it was a bit subtle.

But now he is a criminal and she is in a position to end him.

She has to give up her sweetness when she was a student and treat him as Scepter 4 Lieutenant.

"Then, Kanamura. We can help you if you tell me everything."

Kanemura, however, only looked at Awashima with a mysterious smile.

(After all, it seems to be difficult.)

Thinking about high school, he should be very smart. If she asks a bad question, she will be perplexed or evaded. She knows from Akiyama's reports that Kanemura is not completely silent.

He responds and asks as necessary, and sometimes enjoys chatting.

However, it seems that he won't say anything important to her.

(Oh, it's like looking at people's hearts.)

Akiyama, a fierce warrior, said such a testimony that it was a little creepy.

"Well, I have time. Let's do it slowly."

Awashima recalled the printed research materials, saying that. Not using a tablet also means showing off to Kanemura.

(There is no doubt that this man took the initiative in the bank robbery. He had a habit of collecting works of art, which was also the reason for his debt. The day after the bank robbery, an art item was auctioned at an auction).

The bitter smile leaked out.

(He seems like a mysterious person as always. Senpai Kanemura... No, Kanemura.)

Clench her fist.

(The one who actually went to the site and broke the safe was an executioner who was not Kanemura. Another professional prepared a car to escape and carried a wad of money. Kanemura took all the plans from a remote location. The person who gave the instruction. It is a beautiful criminal plan with a blind spot that large-scale robberies, such as bank robbery, were considered almost unsuccessful due to the development of security in recent years. To be honest, we couldn't contact this guy unless they made the mistake that one of the criminal groups dies for hiding his part.)

The problem is that Kanemura played a certain role in his ability in addition to the main criminal.

(Kanemura probably knew where the bank was, what the staff were, and what security they had. How?)

Hacking skill? How to see through everything.

At that time Awashima looked angry.

"You have changed a lot, Awashima-san."

Kanamura suddenly said that. Awashima was excited.

"You remember?"

"Of course. I cannot forget. I don't forget most of the things. I wonder if it was when I was the class president in group C for a year. You spoke twice at the general meeting before the summer break. You were very good. Is it possible to get a proud job like this?"

Kanemura said clearly while looking at Awashima. Awashima instinctively felt it was creepy and hugged her arm.

She thought his eyes were mysterious and attractive in high school. However, this eye is a raptor's eye. Eyes staring at prey without blinking at night.

"You really have changed. Even though it wasn't such a passionate red."

Red?

Awashima was messy. Blue stands for Scepter 4. There is no red element on the uniform.

Just one place.

Awashima certainly wears red clothes now.

"Kanamura, have I changed so much?"

"Ah. In a very good direction."

There was one more concern. The part that Kanemura is looking at is slightly below Awashima's face. Even under the neck. Awashima reads the materials again. And she knows that the works of art that Kanemura collects are mostly nude images. Incompetence as if you were looking inside the bank.

Awashima surely wore red clothes. However, it is underwear that he never saw.

No doubt. This guy's ability is to... see through things.

"Kanemura-san."

Awashima smiled. Hereafter is a small accident that occurred in the interrogation room. Grab his fist.

"What?"

Kanemura never stopped smiling.

When Akiyama made a noise and called, Awashima with a strangely bright face came out from inside.

It is a face that looks like a memory of youth. When he looks into the room, Kanemura, who fell onto the desk, was jealous.

“She knew all the skills of man. She can also request an arrest warrant with this.”

Akiyama was a little disappointed. The Prime Minister's current nephew, Kanemura, had confessed all the same day.
