MINI EPISODES: BREAK TIME

Salt and corn were added to a generous amount of beaten egg, mixed well, and poured into a buttered pan.

Stir gently with spatula while the oil in the butter and liquid from the egg make a nice sound, and the egg cooks slowly as the bubbles inflate. Next to him, Totsuka took a deep breath and laughed, "It looks delicious."

When cooked through, Kusanagi slightly raises the pan and slaps the handle with a spatula to flip the egg and fold it over. When he made a beautiful omelette, he quickly introduced Totsuka's chicken rice dish. Top with the freshly made tortilla.

"Yes. Let's have lunch."

"Yes! The weather is good today, let's eat outside. King also smokes behind the scenes. "

It's a late lunch break at noon, after coffee is at its busiest. Today's menu is a fluffy omelette. When he came out of the back of the kitchen with a plate for three, he sees Suoh and Munakata sitting on a wooden box and smoking.

"Oya, are you taking a break? Thanks for your hard work."

Munakata, who had been taking a break earlier, greeted him by slightly raising his hand with a cigarette on his finger, probably because he was taking a break after eating.

"Yes, thank you very much for your hard work, Munakata-san! That, King. What is wrong with that?"

As he handed over Omuraisu's plate, Totsuka looked over Suoh's knees and made his eyes go wide. The kitten is curled up there, creating an atmosphere that feels like it has been dragged. This is not just a kitten. The actual figure is a human girl who is an employee of this cafe.

"It's rare for a cat to miss King."

"I do not know. It gets on people without permission."

At the casual Suoh, Munakata opened his mouth happily.

"Fufu. She was scolded by a slightly annoyed customer at the store earlier. "There is cat hair in the ice!" He was angry. Well, that's my fault, but I couldn't ask her to be overly apologetic, saying, 'Show him your sincerity.'

"Geez, it wasn't good."

"She also responded with a slight misalignment, saying, 'It's not a hair, selfish!', So the customer got angry too."

"Oh, King, did you help before that?"

Totsuka smiled while holding Omuraisu in his mouth.

"Do not do anything else."

"Yes. He wasn't really doing anything. The sole wage thief, who is generally careless behind the scenes, capriciously came out and stood behind her. That was just, I bet. In the end the client got scared and apologized."

Kusanagi smiled bitterly.

"He's a typical guy who's upbeat with girls and mean with scary guys. Thanks for your hard work."

"But your job shouldn't be a gorilla. Is it the first time a beast has worked as a waiter in a cafe?"

"Ah, if you sell something, you must behave."

"Yes, it sounds like King. The tortilla will get cold."

Suoh made a brief face to balance the fight and the food, but soon snorted and waved his spoon.

He hears a cat meow from his feet. It's not really the voice of the human cat on Suoh's knee. Looking down, it appears that the black cat is pointing at the Omuraisu. It was hanging from Suoh's thigh.

"Oh, it's Kuro."

"That name is confusing with Kuro Yatogami."

"It can't be helped because it's a classic name for black cats... Is he the culprit in the previous case of cat hair contamination?"

The girl's cat ears twitched in response to the comment. She turns her round eyes to the black cat, "It was all for you!" As soon as she said that, she started exchanging cat blows.

"Kuro shouldn't be in the kitchen, but... let's tell Zenjo-san in the office."

"Sorry, but please."

While Kusanagi and Munakata were in control, Totsuka looked up at the sky pointing with the tip of the spoon.

Today is sunny. The sky is clear blue and the weather is pleasant.

"Still... it's a bit strange."

The extended voice of Totsuka resounds under the blue sky.

"People like us, meeting and having coffee together. Well, although there are some customer issues, in peace, we serve delicious rice to our customers every day. I don't know what it is, but it's interesting."

"What's wrong? Take a sip into your mouth instead."

Kusanagi pointed out that Totsuka laughed even more interestingly.

From the store, Shiro and Kuro come out while looking around.

"Neko? Where did you go?"

"Neko! Get out!"

In response to the two calls, Neko, who was interacting with the black cat, immediately turned to him, and when she jumped off Suoh's knee, she ran.

Along the way, the kitten suddenly turns into a human girl with long hair.

"Kurosuke! I'm already listening..."

Neko jumps towards them, making a voice to the people who really forgave her.

Kusanagi looks at them, while taking another bite of Omuraisu to his mouth.
